

Recruitment - Non-Executive Practitioner Board Member

NRPSI is the UK's independent voluntary regulator of professional interpreters. We maintain a register of professional, qualified and accountable interpreters. The register is publicly available and searchable online. We aim to promote public safety by ensuring that all registered interpreters are qualified and accountable.

The new NRPSI Board of Directors was established in April 2011 and consists of 7 non-executive directors of whom 4, including the chair are lay members, and 3 are practitioner members, who must be registered interpreters. A vacancy has arisen for a non executive practitioner board member, who is keen to embrace our values while helping to guide the organisation and interpreting profession through an evolving political and economic climate.

We are a company limited by guarantee so the role requires an individual who is both a NRPSI registered professional interpreter with a strong commitment to the provision of a better interpreting profession and also with experience and understanding of corporate governance, and working as a non-executive member of a board. S/He will display a clear understanding of a voluntary regulated sector and what non-executive leadership can bring to the organisation.

The successful candidate will be a compelling influencer and communicator within a team environment and have the ability to work within a versatile and interdependent sector.

The board meets at least six times a year and there are occasional other meetings or responsibilities that members are expected to undertake. Meetings are usually held in our offices near Liverpool Street.

An annual allowance of £1,500 is made. Relevant and reasonable expenses are reimbursed. The appointment will be made for a three year term.
